

“SBIR Sally Says”

SBIR Commercialization Pilot Program (CPP)

Did you know that Congress authorized the CPP for another three years making it now run through 2012? In addition, the CPP has contracted “Transition Agents” to assist SBIR Phase II efforts with technology transition to Air Force acquisition customers.
www.sbirstrmall.com

Rest of the Story:

This means the Air Force will continue gathering technology based needs annually from our acquisition community and connecting them to maturing SBIR Phase II efforts. Our “Transition Agents” will help identify all necessary stakeholders and assist with drafting a SBIR Technology Transition Plan (STTP). It is imperative for small businesses to work through their SBIR government technical point of contact (TPOC) to interact with the CPP. The TPOC will be our initial filter so we can focus our resources on those efforts with the highest transition potential..